

MAKESENSECAMPAIGN

Importance of Multidisciplinary Treatment of Head and Neck Cancer Program

This symposium, a joint venture of AO, the European Head and Neck Society, and Make Sense Campaign, addresses the importance of the interdisciplinary management of head and neck (H&N) cancer patients, with a focus on keeping the patient at the center of the decision-making process and maximizing quantity and quality of life.

Friday, September 25
17:00-18:30 CEST

17:00-17:05	Introduction (Satvesh Parmar / Sánchez Aniceto)
17:05-17:15	Clinical relevance of tumor boards (Wojciech Golusiński)
17:15-17:25	Considerations in salvage surgery (Surgical) (Hisham Mehanna)
17:25-17:35	New frontiers in head and neck cancer treatment I (Non-Surgical) (Ana Castro)
17:35-17:45	New frontiers in head and neck cancer treatment II (Surgical) (Christian Simon)
17:45-18:15	Case based discussion - Tumor board panelists 3 cases (including multimodal treatments, treatment options, follow-up protocols, and recurrence cases with potential therapies)
18:15-18:30	Q&A from the audience, wrap-up and take-home messages (Satvesh Parmar / Sánchez Aniceto)